

DEADLINE EXTENDED!

Art Walk Competition

U District Green Street Summer Activation & U District Art Walk

CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS

New Deadline July 6, 2024 at Midnight

Exhibit Dates: August 16, 2024 (and beyond)

Introduction

Art Walk Competition is a freestyle design competition open to all; concept stage, prototype or finished product by student and young artists, design studios, and the art-oriented in the City of Seattle area.

Competition is open to everyone including students and professionals. Design an outdoor art installation, which will be cost effective, environment friendly and feasible to build in the time frame to be installed on August 16, for the U District Art Walk. We encourage designs for all types of art installations that invite engagement and interaction as well as support the placemaking efforts of the project. View project Site Plan for contextual inspiration: udistrict.org/siteplan

Project

The U District Green Street Summer Activation project is an experiment in 'tactical urbanism', where quick, light, and cheap interventions will shape a section of urban street for the summer. An encouraged theme is 'shelter'. For more information on the project, visit udistrict.org/greenstreet

No Fees

Unlike other design awards and competitions, you are not obliged to pay any fees for competing.

Jury Selection

A panel of art professionals and academics will select up to five artists to compete from the pool of applicants, based on the design ideas and sketches proposed and submitted by the deadline.

Compensation

To encourage diverse participation, a materials budget & honorarium will be provided for each of the invited artists in the competition of between $500-1,000 upon completion of the installation.
